

NewWorld and The Avault Podcast to Create The Avault Podcast .5

Dallas, Texas - November 17, 2010 – NewWorld has announced that a new podcast will be added this week to its growing family of shows. The Avault Podcast .5 will be available every Saturday at <http://www.avaultpodcast.com>.

Each week, The Avault Podcast .5 will devote itself exclusively to a single new video game release. Mark Turcotte and Chris Micieli, along with select writers from The Adrenaline Vault website, will thoroughly explore each popular title's story, gameplay and replayability in a round table setting.

By combining The Avault Podcast's trademark sense of humor with the Adrenaline Vault's straight shooting commentary, The Avault Podcast .5 aims to provide a weekly opportunity for gamers to get all of the information needed to make informed consumer decisions about the latest video games on the market.
